

Women's networking event to be held monthly

LOWER PROVIDENCE — A new monthly networking event for women business owners, the Women Business Owners Idea Cafe!, was recently introduced. Curtis Solutions and Cozy Cuisines, two active local Perkiomen Valley Chamber members, brainstormed this free event.

The women attending sampled culinary creations prepared on site by Cozy Cuisines LLC, featuring the personal chefs Jessica Reilley and Maria Schaller.

"This is a great opportunity to exchange ideas on what is working, grow your business and network with women in the community," said Amy Purcell, director of public relations for the Perkiomen Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Each month, on the third Tuesday, from 5 to 7 p.m., networking, a guest speaker and discussions will be held. Topics will focus on education and information for the small business entrepreneur. The event is supported by 50/50 tickets with residual monies collected designated to charitable organizations.

For more information about Curtis Solutions Network Inc., call 610-454-0848. To learn more about Cozy Cuisines, call 215-774-1179. To register or sign up for Women Business Owners Idea Cafe!, log onto www.WBOIdeaCafe.com